MiSOT 2016

The 6th Expert Meeting on Therapeutic
MSCs for Immune Modulation

Brücksaal at Salzstadel (main entrance, 1. floor)
October 26th - 28th 2016

Dear colleagues,

despite the first clinical trials of mesenchymal stromal cells (MSCs) occurred more than 20 years ago, we are still only beginning to grasp their therapeutic potential. To reflect the vast array of MSC therapeutic research, MiSOT 2016 will invite experts from the fields of solid organ transplantation, regenerative medicine and immune therapy to discuss the application of MSCs to combat organ rejection, to support tissue repair and to treat immunological disorders including cardiovascular disease, ARDS and sepsis. MiSOT 2016 will also showcase advancements in utilizing MSCs to reduce organ injury throughout the transplantation process, for example ischemic injury, mechanical reperfusion and reduction of fibrosis.

Scale-up and large volume MSC production are uncharted areas for the majority of Clinician-Scientist. However these processes are essential to produce a uniform medicinal MSC that is safe for critically ill patients. Therefore we will be inviting speakers from industry to share insights on the commercialisation of MSC-based technologies.

We look forward to seeing you in Regensburg.
