

Online Lecture Series

Egypt, Land of Writing(s)

University of Liege

March 24, 2022 (8pm CET): Dimitri Laboury & Jean Winand (Uliège)
Neo-hieroglyphs in the Prince-Bishopric of Liege during the Renaissance

April 7, 2022 (8pm CET): Claude Rilly (CNRS-LLACAN, EPHE)
When Kushites (nearly) adopted the Egyptian writing system. Classifiers in transcriptions of Napatan names.

April 14, 2022 (8pm CET): Philipp Seyr (Uliège)
The ancient Egyptian perception of placenames and their phonological development: a toponymic journey to Upper Egypt

April 28, 2022 (8pm CET): Marwan Kilani (University of Geneva)
When one orthography is not enough: Group Writing Function and Functioning

May 12, 2022 (8pm CET): Vincent Morel (UMR 8546, Paris)
Networking desert places & writing practices, or how to write an early history of Egypt's central eastern Desert

May 19, 2022 (8pm CET): Renaud Pietri (Uliège)
Papyrus anastylosis and paleography: Case studies from Deir el-Medina

June 2, 2022 (8pm CET): Jana Mynářová (Charles University in Prague)
Egypt or the Near East? A cuneiform tradition in the Nile Valley

Connection links and details:

https://www.mondesanciens.uliege.be/cms/c_3967786/fr/mondesanciens-tous-les-agendas

Information: gaille.chantrain@uliege.be