

The Young Zoologists Group

OUR GOALS

Reach out to the young scientific community and to:

- Acknowledge all different possibilities of pursuing a biologist career in Belgium,
- Keep the community up-to-date with new jobs/funding openings.
- Build the scientific network,
- Organize workshops to increase skillsets of young zoologists.

ABOUT US

Royal Belgian Zoological Society (RBZS) is a non-profit organization aiming at promoting zoology and connecting junior and senior researchers from Belgium and abroad.

The Young Zoologists group is included in the RBZS. We promote all networking activities of research within the zoology field.

EVENTS WE (CO)ORGANIZED

The Benelux Congress of Zoology

The Jacques Kets Award for Zoology

The Masterdays

WORKSHOPS

- Data-to-Viz : How to display your data in an attractive manner using R
- Stress management as an early career researcher
Pitch presentation
- Life after grad school
- Statistics: Analytical Insights and Practical Applications

WHO ARE WE?

Master students, PhD students, and PhDs from all fields of zoology sharing a common passion for nature wonders and science.

JOIN US!

Do you want to stay connected with a community of young scientists?

→ Follow our activities, events, and opportunities on our platforms.

Or do you want to get actively involved?

→ Join our team, help organize workshops, develop new skills, and take an active role in the Belgian scientific community.

Contact us or meet us directly so that we can discuss how best you could participate in the group's activities.

yzgrbzs@gmail.com

Young Zoologists Group

