This is one house that Pierre built.
This is a book
That lies in the house that Pierre built.
This is a mouse
That helped make the book
That lies in the house that Pierre built.
This is a cat
Confused by the mouse
That helped make the book
That lies in the house that Pierre built.
This is a dog
Who barks at the cat
Confused by the mouse
That helped make the book
That lies in the house that Pierre built.
This is a child
Tumbling with the dog
Who barks at the cat
Confused by the mouse
That helped make the book
That lies in the house that Pierre built.
This is a mother all forlorn,
Who can't find the child
Tumbling with the dog
Who barks at the cat
Confused by the mouse
That helped make the book
That lies in the house that Pierre built.
This is the father, and the grandfather,
Teasing the mother all forlorn,
And tickling the child
Tumbling with the dog
Who barks at the cat
Confused by the mouse
That helped make the book
That lies in the house that he built.

Filling their grids may take days.

When no rough wind is blowing,
When no hard rain is falling,
Then you are all set to fly,
Storm to your plane and the sky.
